J. C. Griggs, Mayor Of Carthage is Elected President For Coming Year

Missouri mayors, meeting in the eleventh annual convention of the Missouri Municipal League today elected Mayor J. C. Griggs, of Carthage president, at a business session conducted shortly before noon at the Bothwell hotel where the convention was held. Mayor Griggs succeeds Mayor Arthur F. Bangert of Florissant, as head of the organization.

Mayor Frank Martini, Maplewood, was elected vice president and succeeds Mayor Griggs. The election of the board of directors was also held with the following named Robert G. Hyde, city attorney Poplar Bluff; Marvin Boisseau, city attorney University City; L. C. Hudson, city clerk Moberly; George L. Stemmler, city counselor St. Louis; while A. J. The board of directors again appointed Bruce J. Carl, mayor of Columbia, as their executive director.

Morning Session

The morning session was presided over by Mr. Cookingham, a trustee of the A. M. A. At this time he introduced Glenn Mohler, chairman of the league legislative committee; Jerome Joffe, special assistant city counselor of Kansas City; Aubrey Hamilton, city counselor's office St. Louis and George A. Spencer, legal consultant of the league.

The above men used as their subject "The League's Activities to Secure Legislation to Put the New Constitution Into Effect."

Following this session the annual business meeting was held at which time election of the officers and members of the board of directors was held.

This afternoon Harland Bartholomew, city planner, spoke on "Planning and Zoning of Missouri Cities."

GSO Special Activities

GSO Specials, a new feature of the USO program, are proving popular with the servicemen at the Sedalia Army Air Field and large crowds attended the two held this week.

On Tuesday an informal dance was held at the USO with Kathryn Guymon, chairman, Dorothy Church, Josephine and Regina Kalwei, on the social committee. Toasted cheese sandwiches and coffee were served by the girls.

Thursday night was a bingo party and chili supper at the USO. The social committee was composed of LeRoyne Blatterman, chairman, Jewel Housel, Glenda Richardson and Ella May Lange.

'Bob' Ryan Released From Army Service

T/S Robert Ryan, son of Joseph Ryan, 308 South Grand avenue, has recently returned to the states after spending 30 months overseas. He was released from the army at Fort Leavenworth, and was met there last week-end by Mr. and Mrs. Ryan, and he accompanied them to Kansas City where all attended the Memorial Mass for Pvt. Danny Ryan, who died of burns in Honshu, Japan. The mass was at St. Peter's church, Kansas City, last Monday morning.

"Bob" Ryan, who is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frost Waddell, of this city, remained in Kansas City for a visit with relatives.

Now it's the 'Barrel Drape' Suit

Sympathetic salesmen at a Kansas City, Kans. haberdashery decided to laugh with servicemen who couldn't find "civvies" to fit them. These single and double-breasted barrel drapes are the result. Henry Holmes, SF3/c and Pvt. Robert W. Marshall (right) give their hometown display a skeptical once-over. (NEA Telephoto).

GIs Overseas, Congressmen, Call for 'Ike'

Both Will Listen to What he Says on Demobilization

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11—(AP)—Disgruntled GIs overseas and equally concerned congressmen called today for "Ike" to speak out plainly on the army's troubled demobilization program.

The great prestige which Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower enjoys both with the army rank and file as well as with Capitol Hill lawmakers evidently made them want to hear what he had to say as chief of staff.

FRANKFURT, Germany, Jan. 11—(AP)—A third mass meeting to protest the redeployment slowdown was planned tonight by GIs who booed the names of Secretary of War Patterson and their commander Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, in another "I want to go home" demonstration last night.

And it was pretty plain they were not interested in listening to anyone else first.

Demonstrating GIs in Frankfurt, Germany, last night chanted "We want Ike." That was after they booed and hissed the name of Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, Eisenhower's successor as U. S. commander in Germany.

Simultaneously on Capitol Hill talk grew of a joint meeting of congress, possibly next Tuesday, to hear Eisenhower discuss the army's demobilization slow-down order of last week, as well as the revised discharge policy now in preparation. A senate military subcommittee also was assigned to look into the picture.

Is in Canada

Eisenhower, now on an official visit to Canada, is not due back at his Pentagon office until the first of next week.

Fresh evidence of war department apprehension over the demobilization furor was reflected meanwhile in a speech by Under Secretary Royall last night at Rona, Va.

Royall, who is heading the department while Secretary Patterson is on a Pacific inspection tour, deplored "American hysteria to get the boys home." This, he said, is "endangering our whole occupation policy."

"The ending of this hysteria is the responsibility of the people of America," he declared, "not of the army. Not of the navy, not of the president, not of congress."

Should the rapid withdrawal of overseas personnel continue, Royall went on, "America will lose its power to prevent the totalitarian elements in Germany and Japan from building again for another conquest."

Forrest F. Ritchey to Receive Bronze Star Medal Award

Forrest F. Ritchey, 129 East Walnut street, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Ritchey, has received a letter from Major General Edward F. Whittell, acting adjutant general, stating that by the direction of the president he had been awarded the Bronze Star medal and the Purple Heart by the commanding general of the 17th infantry division. The citations are as follows:

Bronze Star Medal

"For heroic achievement in connection with military operations against the enemy at Luzon, Philippine Islands on 15 February, 1945 after an attacking platoon had moved forward, leaving Pfc. Ritchey with three companions to guard a newly taken building in Manila. The Japanese made a determined effort to retake the structure. Standing their ground for two hours, these men assisted in delivering withering rifle fire which foiled the attack and killed twenty-five of the enemy. Pfc. James O. Rhodes of Roodhouse, Ill., was awarded the Bronze Star medal for the same military operation."

Purple Heart

"For wounds received in action in the Philippine Islands on 23 February, 1945."

Kansas Citizens Talk To Son in Moscow

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 11—(AP)—Although long distance calls were practically non-existent under the present strike conditions, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tucker of Kansas City today talked to their son—some 6,000 miles away.

The call was placed in Moscow by their son, Robert C. Tucker, who is an attaché in the American embassy there. Tucker told his parents it took only "a few minutes" to get the call through.

Penalty For Wage Violation

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 11—(AP)—A disallowance of $10,000 for income tax purposes as a penalty for violation of wage control regulations will be assessed against the First National Bank in St. Louis, Jack G. Day, chairman of the Seventh Regional Wage Stabilization board, announced today.

'Country is in Good Hands,' States Sermon

Mayor Roger T. Sermon of Independence, assured the delegates to the eleventh annual convention of the Missouri Municipal League that "a real man is in the White House, a typical Missourian."

Speaking briefly at the banquet Thursday night, at Hotel Bothwell, Sermon, who reminded the audience that he hails from the town where the Little White House is located, likened Harry S. Truman to a "Missouri hound dog" in this wise: If a predatory animal pack takes out after him and runs him into a corner he'll catch his breath and come out fighting. And likewise, "Harry Truman when pushed far enough comes out fighting and somebody is going to be sorry."

Sermon, a Democrat, and a candidate for reelection as the mayor of Independence, concluded by exclaiming that "The country is in good hands, in spite of Truman's sudden rise to the White House."

Child Victim of Fiendish Crime Buried Today

Officials Continue Search for New Clues in Case

CHICAGO, Jan. 11—(AP)—For the last time, little Suzanne Degnan was brought today to the greystone church where in life she knelt and prayed.

Victim of one of Chicago's most fiendish crimes—the six-year-old first grader was borne into St. Gertrude's church in a simple white casket, carried by six boy pallbearers, schoolmates in Sacred Heart school which she attended.

In the age-old rites of the Roman Catholic church, the bier was met at the door by the pastor, the Rev. George Kearney, who celebrated "the Mass of the Angels" for the little parishioner who only a few weeks ago portrayed an angel in a school Christmas pageant.

The "Mass of the Angels" is a funeral rite reserved for children under the age of seven.

Police Lt. James Schwartz placed at 300 the number of persons gathered outside the church when the funeral cortege arrived. Most of them followed the casket inside.

Continue Search

Behind the pallbearers were the grief-stricken parents, James and Helen Degnan, both 36, and another daughter, Betty, 10. With them were Mrs. Degnan's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edward O'Connor of Philadelphia.

As funeral services were being conducted city and Cook county law enforcement officials, unsuccessful after four days of intensified search to capture the sadist who kidnapped and killed Suzanne and then chopped her body to pieces, continue their search for fresh clues.

The collapse of one clue after another, many of which had been regarded as important, brought no let-down in the police investigation. Officials said they had not uncovered any new clues definitely linking any one person as a top suspect.

Janitors Released

Two janitors who work in the Edgewater district on the north side, where the Degnan family lives, were released from police custody yesterday on writs of habeas corpus.

One of the janitors, Hector Verburgh, 65, had been in custody for 48 hours for questioning after police said the Degnan girl's body had been hacked to pieces in the basement of an apartment building he tended.

But the state's attorney's office told Chief Justice Harold G. Ward of the criminal court the state had no evidence to warrant filing charges against either Verburgh or Desere Smet, 35, who also tends apartment buildings near the Degnan home, or Mr. Verburgh's wife, Mary, 64.

Legion Post 342 Will be Cited

The new Sedalia Post 342 of the American Legion will receive a citation from the National American Legion headquarters by virtue of the 1946 members of the local post surpassing last year's record, revealed the adjutant in reading a report as of December 31 at a meeting of the Sedalia post at the armory Thursday night at 8 p. m.

Commander John VandeKamp presided over the business session during which William F. Brown was elected to a three-year term on the board of trustees. The meeting hall recently was redecorated in a color scheme of buff and brown.

Refreshments were served after the business session.

Two Automobiles Were Ransacked

Two automobiles, parked in the 500 block on East Fourth street were entered sometime early Thursday evening and ransacked. Police are investigating a group of boys seen in the neighborhood about that time.

Herbert Bellmer, 530 East Fourth, had cigarettes stolen from his car while nothing was taken from the automobile of L. A. Hanigan, 505 East Fourth street, although someone had been in it.

Officials Meet in Attempt to Carry on Telephone Service; Study Plan To End GM Strike

Neither Side has Rejected Terms Of 17½ Per Cent Increase Suggested

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Union and company representatives studied today a proposal to end the 51 day old General Motors strike with a 17½ per cent pay increase.

They made no immediate commitment, but one "white House labor adviser said it was significant neither side rejected the terms during preliminary discussions with aides of President Truman. These talks occurred soon after the recommendation was taken to the chief executive by his fact-finding panel yesterday.

Officials of the United Automobile Workers will consider the proposal Sunday at a meeting in Detroit. Walter P. Reuther, UAW vice president, declared the board "completely supports the union's position that wages can and must be increased without price increase."

The corporation had nothing to say until experts could study the 30-page report of the fact-finders.

The men who counsel Mr. Truman on labor problems seemed hopeful the end of the GM tieup was in sight and that this would influence solution of steel, meat packing and electrical industry disputes which have brought calls for 1,100,000 CIO workers to strike next week.

Hourly Rate

The recommended pay increase would amount to 19½ cents an hour more than the present average scale of $1.13 an hour. The UAW asked a 30 per cent rise, or 33.6 cents more an hour, and the company had offered 12 per cent, or 13½ cents.

President Truman endorsed the fact-finding report and said if it is accepted, "the industrial skies will rapidly clear and American industry and labor will go forward to new heights of achievement in the interests of the whole country."

The CIO-Auto Workers, originally their demand for a 30 per cent pay increase to offset loss in take-home pay resulting when plants cut from 48 to 40 hours a week at the war's end.

Wants Strike Ended

The panel, in addition to recommending to 19½ cent hourly increase, called for immediate end of the strike, reinstatement of strikes without discrimination, and restoration of the 1945 contract. The board commented that the company had a right to cancel that contract on December 10, as it did.

"We recommend that the management, the union, and the workers join in a whole-hearted effort to restore production as speedily as possible; to continue it without interruption; and to life it to new levels of efficiency and capacity in the interest of all the people," the panel said.

The board consisted of Chairman Lloyd K. Garrison, Milton S. Eisenhower and Chief Justice Walter P. Stacy of the North Carolina supreme court.

Footnote

Saying it was satisfied that the recommended wage increase would not have "inflationary consequences," the panel added in a footnote:

"In satisfying ourselves that, in our judgment, the company can pay, in the first twelve months after the resumption of production, the recommended wage increase without increasing prices, we have assumed that (A) General Motors will sell its products at its 1942 schedule of prices, (B) productivity will be no greater than in 1941, (C) aggregate volume of production will equal that of 1941, (D) material costs to General Motors have increased 15 per cent since 1941 and may increase more, (E) total pay rolls have increased and will increase proportionately with wage increases and (F) selling, general and administrative costs will be somewhat higher than in 1941."

With all those factors, prices of General Motors cars will be 12 per cent higher than 1941 models but as productivity and output develops an increase of as much as 50 per cent over 1941 production can be expected in 1947, the board said.

Some Withhold Clothes
WASHINGTON, Jan. 11—(AP)—The OPA said today some manufacturers are withholding men's and boys' tailored clothes from the market as the result of an erroneous report that a general price increase is contemplated.

Long Distance Calls Must be Emergencies

In Sedalia the telephone system is not affected unless one wants to put in a long distance telephone call and if that is in one of the nearby places it will probably go through. However, if it is Kansas City, St. Louis or one of the cities where workers are out, you will be asked if the call is an emergency. In this case an emergency is almost entirely sickness or death, but other things may be considered an emergency, depending upon their importance.

Local operators are taking only emergency long distance calls to specified places.

News Briefs

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 11—(AP)—Picketing of the general offices of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company here caused a lot of climbing by employees of firms which also occupy the building.

Elevator operators refused to cross the picket lines forcing suspension of elevator service in the 31-story structure which is St. Louis' tallest building.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 11—(AP)—The Ohio Federation of Telephone Employees at noon today called its approximately 7,500 members employed by the Ohio Bell Telephone company from their jobs.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 11—(AP)—Manual and long distance telephone service was disrupted here today when operators and other employees refused to cross picket lines established at exchanges by striking members of the Association of Communications Equipment Workers Union. Only emergency calls were being accepted by those operators on duty. Dial telephone service was normal for the time being.

The Southwestern Bell Telephone company here broadcast appeals over local radio stations today asking subscribers to use their telephones only in cases of emergency.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Jan. 11—(AP)—One of the largest cities in the country without dial phones, Springfield today was virtually without local or toll telephone service. Only "emergency" calls were being handled and two pickets paraded in a snowstorm in front of the Exchange building.

TOPEKA, Kas., Jan. 11—(AP)—Paul Heinz, Shawnee county district judge, today granted a temporary injunction restraining 12 striking Western Electric installation workers from picketing the Southwestern Bell Telephone company offices in "Topeka and vicinity."

Sheriff Elb Beal notified the pickets that under the order they either must retire or face possible contempt of court. He said two of the pickets retired immediately but that others remained.

The others retired shortly afterward and employees of the telephone company returned to work.

F. F. Frazier, spokesman for the striking Western Electric workers, said he would get an attorney immediately to discuss the strikers' side of the dispute.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 11—(AP)—Eleven thousand telephone operators throughout northern California and Nevada were ordered today by their union to leave their jobs immediately, regardless of whether their local telephone company offices were picketed.

Long Distance System Crippled Except for Calls That are Necessary

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11—(AP)—John Steelman, special assistant to President Truman, conferred today with Secretary of Labor Schwel-lenbach, as the labor department strove to halt a progressive tieup of the nation's telephone service.

Earlier, a department official had declared that seizure by the government of the telephone industry would be recommended to Mr. Truman if picket lines around telephone exchanges across the country resulted in a national tieup of service.

Steelman, formerly chief of the federal conciliation service and an adviser of the president on labor matters, saw the labor secretary shortly after noon.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—(AP)—America's vast long distance telephone system was crippled seriously by a strike today—except for emergency calls—and a labor department spokesman said the government might step in if a nationwide tie-up in telephone service developed.

In Washington, the spokesman, who requested his name not be used, said government seizure of the telephone industry might be recommended.

Reversing an earlier decision to wait until Monday, installation workers threw picket lines around most of the major exchanges across the nation in the early dawn. In most cases, other telephone workers were not crossing those lines.

Supervisors and telephone company officials were attempting to maintain service, but could care for little more than the most urgent calls.

American Telephone and Telegraph Company—the nation's top long distance facility—reported 12 of its 14 major traffic offices were picketed. The exceptions were Boston and Cincinnati. Those picketed, the company said, were Buffalo, Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, Kansas City, Louisville, Memphis, Minneapolis, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and St. Louis.

Follow Electric Workers

In other cities long distance calls through A. T. and T. are handled by toll operators or Associated companies.

The telephone situation followed a strike Wednesday of 8,000 members of the Association of Communications equipment workers (Ind) who install Western Electric equipment in Bell Telephone exchanges. They originally demanded a $6 a week pay increase, but later cut that to an undisclosed amount.

The union got the pledge of many other telephone union workers that they would not cross picket lines. In addition to long distance service, today's action also curtailed manual operations in many sections. Dial telephones were not affected, but will be when they need repairs. The union estimated dial systems will bog down in a week to 10 days.

Shortly before last midnight Ernest Weaver, president of the ACEW, said picketing would be postponed until Monday at the request of Secretary of Labor Schwel-lenbach.

Too Late to Stop Pickets

A few hours later Weaver said it was too late to stop the pickets so they would go ahead.

A spokesman for Schwel-lenbach said this afternoon's conference between Schwel-lenbach and Western Electric and union representatives would be held as scheduled in Washington. The spokesman also said Weaver would make another effort to have the pickets withdrawn pending further discussions.

One of the major areas not affected by the shutdown was New England, where the installation workers are not affiliated with the ACEW.

In most of the cities the picketing by members of the Association of Communications Equipment Workers (Ind) began prior to the scheduled 7 a. m. starting time.

The Daily Washington
Merry-Go-Round
by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Some people may have been surprised at the flare-up of GI mass meetings following announcement that demobilization would be delayed. Certainly, however, the general staff in Washington should not have been surprised.

Anyone reading the service-men's newspapers, anyone sampling the thousands of letters which pour in on congressmen and commentators, knew that for weeks GI resentment was near boiling point. Nobody stirred it up. It had been brewing for months.

Most surprising fact, however, is that, despite this long-brewing condition, the general staff in Washington has done nothing to correct a basic situation inside the army which goes much deeper than merely delayed demobilization. For much of the GI resentment springs from a sense of injustice and frustration.

And if we are to have a big peacetime army, the bigger it is, the more necessary it is to mend morale permanently.

Some congressmen are convinced—as a result of hints dropped around the Pentagon building—that the war department deliberately slowed up demobilization in order to put the heat on for conscription. Pressure from the boys overseas would then be such that congress would pass conscription immediately, thus supplying replacement troops.

Censorship Covered up

However, whether conscripted or not, no army is efficient unless morale is high. The conscripted French army proved this in 1940. Therefore, whether drafted or voluntary, what both the American public and the war department are basically interested in is an army of men not torn by a sense of injustice and resentment.

Most people don't realize it, but during the war the American public was shielded from many things that took place inside the army. But the men inside the army knew what was going on, though they could not write home about it. So now, with censorship over, they are not only writing home, but they are service papers and generally blowing off pentup steam.

They have fought a war to save the democratic system at home, and now they would like to see a little more democracy right inside their own army. If we did not have so intelligent an army, there would not be this outburst. But the American army today is the most intelligent we have ever assembled; in fact, the most intelligent in the world—bar none.

Intelligent men make the best fighters; but also the best grippers when they think they have been wronged.

Based upon thousands of GI letters and talking to many men, here are some ideas which this columnist believes might improve morale and efficiency inside the army.

Revise West Point

1. Abolish political appointments to West Point and base them entirely on merit. There is no reason why we should still follow the antiquated idea that each congressman is entitled to appoint boys to West Point as a means of aiding his own re-election. The army should be above politics. Instead let West Pointers be chosen from the ranks of enlisted men as a reward for efficiency and devotion to duty.
2. Award all commissions from the ranks, except in the case of specialists in wartime. Let every man go in as a private and let the best man get promoted on the basis of sheer ability, not personal drag.
3. After an officer gets his commission, let further promotions be based on competitive examinations, not seniority.
4. Give both men and officers the same food, even though served in separate messes, and improve housing for enlisted men.
5. But above all, cut out the selfish favoritism and thoughtlessness practiced by some officers, which make enlisted men hate all officers, including even the great majority of conscientious officers who look out for their men.

Army Caste System

Cut out, for instance the system whereby the 1268th engineering combat battalion has to move out of a healthy camp site near Manila and live in filthy buffalo wallow because the officers' club wants to expand its golf course.

Cut out, for instance, the system whereby Pvt. Karl von Esche is refused admission for his wife to the General Moore hospital in Savannah, N. C. His wife dies. Lieut. John Bamberger's dog is admitted to the same hospital at about the same time.

Also cut out the system whereby Maj. Gen. William Ord Ryan uses an army plane to fly a bale of hay all the way across the Pacific to feed his captive kangaroo; whereby officers fly to football games while GIs ride day

STOP JOHN CLAY!
By Lionel Mosher

THE STORY: Sam Pringle, Pike's employer, wires him to return to New York immediately. Pike refuses. He receives a dinner invitation from John Clay. Blind suggests they pool their information. Pike says no.

VII

PIKE turned in at the gates of Number Ten Orchard Hill as a clock in town struck 8.

There had been a thunder shower. The leaves dripped rain and the blades of grass on John Clay's lawn glistened like tiny icicles.

The houseman who took Pike's hat had on a white coat.

"It's Mr. Calvin," Pike told him. "Oh, you're early."

Pike could see her standing at the foot of the stairway. She stooped to adjust a buckle on her slipper, then straightened and came toward him.

"I'm Marcia," she put out her hand and grasped his firmly. "Father told me you were coming."

She smiled and Pike looked at the bold red lips and eyes that were bright and searching. He knew there was a Marcia Clay. Some years back she had appeared quite regularly in the rotogravure sections of the newspapers, but since her mother's death, she had retired from publicity.

Now, as Pike saw the long black velvet dinner dress against all this shining blonde loveliness, he wondered if he was being subjected to a little propaganda.

"In here," she said and linked her arm through his.

MARCIA CLAY patted the divan beside her.

"Sit here," she said. "Father will be down soon."

Pike sat down, took out his cigarettes, and offered her one.

She took it and Pike held his lighter for her. She leaned forward, angled a glance up at him through long lashes, then put her cigarette to the flame.

coaches on the much more important mission of seeing their wives; whereby Colonel Soriano, the friend of General MacArthur and personal representative of Dictator Franco, is able to fly three plane-loads of beer bottle tops across the Pacific and whereby the Pentagon generals dispatch one plane to Florida for pompano, another to North Dakota for quail and a third to Texas for avocados and fresh tomatoes for the sole purpose of staging a fancy dinner for a British air marshal.

Also cut out the system whereby football players and baseball players get discharged ahead of high point veterans merely because they have wire-pulling friends in the war department; and the system whereby General MacArthur gives a special airplane ride 8,000 miles home to the low-point son of Gen. Hanford McNider.

Finally cut out the system whereby enlisted men at times were given one helmet of water per day for bathing, drinking and laundry, but see the hose running all day to water officers' gardens.

These are some of the very strong reasons why men don't want to stay in the army. Nobody is stirring this up except certain officers themselves. These officers have it within their power to change this overnight. They need no legislation.

They also have it within their power to revamp our antiquated system and build one of the best armies in the world. But conscription or no conscription, they won't have a strong army unless favoritism, personal political pull and the caste system are made as defunct as certain types of pre-atom warfare.

Science Enlarges Knowledge of Glands

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

The endocrine glands pour their secretions directly into the blood as it passes through them. From the blood they obtain the various chemical elements which they use to make their specific secretions. The endocrine glands vary greatly in size, shape and structure.

One of the best known endocrine glands is the thyroid, located in the neck. The parathyroid glands are tiny structures, usually four in number, attached to the under surface of the thyroid gland. The pituitary gland, which is about the size of a pea, located under the brain in a small cavity in the skull.

Endocrines Drop Out

The endocrine glands, which seem to exert an influence for a time and then drop out, are the pineal, in the top of the skull, and the thymus in the chest. Sudden deaths have been ascribed to the thymus when it persists beyond puberty or when it is enlarged, but proof is usually lacking.

Endocrine glands in the abdominal cavity include the adrenals, situated over the upper poles of the kidneys, the pancreas, which lies across the upper portion of the abdomen in the midline, and the sex glands. The adrenal glands and the pancreas are necessary for life, while the sex glands can be removed.

Treatment of gland disorders would be simple if only one gland was affected at a time, but when one is diseased the others are disturbed. If a gland is overactive, a portion of it can be removed; if a gland is destroyed by disease, an extract of a similar animal gland is given to the patient.

The only gland which is directly influenced by what we eat is the

Looking Backward
Forty Years Ago

The state board of agriculture met yesterday at Columbia and elected the following officers of the Missouri State Fair board: A. T. Nelson, Lebanon, president; Frank C. Hayman, Houstonia, vice president; J. R. Rippey, Sedalia, secretary; C. E. Yeater, Sedalia, treasurer.

ART: "Saw you at the movies last night, Judge. That was quite a weekend that alcoholic went through, wasn't it?"

OLD JUDGE: "Sure was, but I'm afraid most people won't really understand it."

ART: "What do you mean, Judge?"

OLD JUDGE: "Simply this. That poor chap was really a sick man...not just a drunk. Studies by famous psychiatrists and the medical profession show that alcoholism is not caused by a craving for alcohol...it is usually the result of some deep-rooted social, physical or emotional condition. If that fellow had not turned to alcohol for escape, he would have turned to something else."

ART: "Are there many that get in that condition, Judge?"

OLD JUDGE: "Fortunately not, Art. Scientists at a great university have stated that approximately 95% of the people who drink do so sensibly. Only 5% are immoderate at times. In that 5% is the small number known as alcoholics. And the beverage distilling industry which does not want a single person to use its product immoderately, is cooperating fully in the solution of this problem."

Choice To Agree Or Quit Fleet

Such Was The Assertion Of Kimmel Made To Commission

By Jack Bell and William T. Peacock

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11—(AP)—Congressional investigators learned Thursday that Admiral Husband E. Kimmel told the Roberts commission four years ago the Washington administration insisted on keeping the fleet in Pearl Harbor and he had the choice of agreeing or quitting as its commander.

The admiral's testimony at previous secret inquiries, furnished to members of the senate-house committee today, disclosed that on Dec. 27, 1941, in Honolulu, Kimmel told the group headed by Ower J. Roberts, then Associate Justice of the Supreme Court: "I knew that the navy department and the administration in Washington insisted on keeping the fleet out here. I knew of the vulnerability of the fleet here. I thought it was appreciated in the navy department as well as my bet, but it was one of the things I felt was beyond my power to change."

Wishes Other Course Taken
"I had the choice of saying I would not stay and get another commander-in-chief, or to remain. Naturally, I wish I had taken the other course at the present time, but I did not."

The 63-year-old retired admiral, who Secretary Forrestal has said should never again hold a position with the navy requiring the exercise of "superior judgment," is to begin his first public testimony before senate-house committee next Tuesday.

Contentions Offered
Committee members, studying his complete testimony before the Roberts commission, a navy inquiry board and an army inquiry

Appointment of Robert L. McKeever above Washington real estate man as Director of Liquidation of government war agencies has been announced by President Truman. He will work with a liquidation advisory committee.

board, found these principal contentions by Kimmel:

1. "Things would have been different" if Washington: had furnished him all the information it had obtained through intercepting and decoding Japanese messages.

2. Had he been forewarned with information obtained when the Japanese consul's codes were seized in Honolulu Dec. 7, 1941, he would have ordered all fleet units to sea and would have put all his planes in the air.

3. If he had flown long-range reconnaissance from Nov. 27, when he received a "war warning" message, the army and navy would not have had enough planes to make up an air striking force to "go after the enemy if we found him."

4. He felt it "incomprehensible" that the army did not report to him until December 9 that its radar had plotted the course of the Japanese planes retiring from the attack.

5. From actions of the navy department he believed that it shared his own opinion that an air attack on Pearl Harbor was only "a remote possibility."

6. He saw no navy men intoxicated the night before the attack. Kimmel disclosed that he was struck on the chest by a spent machine gun bullet as he watched the attack from his headquarters windows.

Four Games In Stover Tourney

Four games were played Thursday night at the annual invitation basketball tournament at Stover, with the following results:

Tipton, 43; Warsaw, 42.
Cole Camp, 28; Lincoln, 22.
Stover, 29; Ottaville, 31.
Windsor, 45; Smithton, 17.

The game between Stover and Ottaville ran into two overtime periods, the score at the close of the last quarter being a 29-29 tie. No points were racked up in the first overtime, and in the second Ottaville scored a field goal.

Games will be played tonight, Saturday afternoon and night. Two volleyball games also are on tonight's schedule. The contests are played on the Stover high school court.

Merlin Warnke, Hal Halsted and N. L. Verts are the referees.

Find Body Of Woman In River

BOONVILLE, Mo., Jan. 11—(AP)—The body of Mrs. Forrest Brewington, who was reported missing from her home Wednesday night, was found today in the Missouri river near the Katy bridge by Paulman J. E. Seeley.

Coroner J. R. Smith said he would hold no inquest in that evidence indicated suicide.

Seeley said she had apparently anchored herself to a tree stump by means of a rope. A note was found on the bank of the river.

Mrs. Brewington had been ill for several months, the coroner said, and was confined to her bed last Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Brewington and their daughter came to Boonville from St. Louis when Brewington purchased the Boonville Mercantile company.

Thirst in P. I. For US Books And Magazines

Scores File Daily Into American Information Library

By Hal Boyle

MANILA, Jan. 11.—(P)— There is a great thirst in the Philip-pines to know more about the American way of life and books and magazines are the best spok-esmen for culture.

The Filipinos like these silent ambassadors, because they tell what has been going on in the world and because they don't get drunk and boisterous or promise to take Filipino girls back to the United States.

Daily, scores of residents file into the United States information library to browse among its vol-umes or to gather technical in-formation on American laws and business practices.

It is one of several libraries set up in foreign cities by the state department's U. S. infor-mation service — successor to the office of war information — to present American achievement and thought as recorded by un-censored books and periodicals.

Girl in Charge

The Manila library is directed by tall, shy, studious Hazel Fer-guson, of Fayetteville, Ark., who studied at George Washington university before she went to Sydney, Australia, to help set up the American information library there. There are also libraries in London, Bombay, Johannes-burg, South Africa; Melbourne, Australia; Wellington, N. Z., and other cities.

Five weeks after President Ser-gio Osmena hailed the opening of her Manila library as "a treasure house of democracy and a symbol of Free America" Miss Ferguson had clocked in almost 10,000 read-ers and her staff had answered 400 queries from individuals or firms seeking to know more about America.

"Most of them are quite seri-ous, and we get very few screw-ball-type queries," she said. Per-haps the most unusual came from a local dentist who wanted two books on how to raise goats.

Customers Varied

Her customers range from Amer-ican army officers, Philippine educators to dusky, black-haired, barefooted boys and girls who patronize the children's corner. There have been few women pa-trons—Filipino women seem to leave reading up to their men-folk—but some have called to check American fashion changes.

The library contains more than 1,200 books and regular issues of 75 popular, technical and profes-sional magazines.

"We try as much as possible to fill in the gap on material people couldn't obtain during a long Japanese occupation," said Miss Ferguson.

Specialized health pamphlets are distributed free to medical organizations, for physicians have had especial difficulty keeping up with developments in this field.

Helped Both Sides

The library was able to help both prosecution and defense counsel in the recent trial of Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, be-cause it had the only copy in Manila of a book on the trial of war criminals.

Homeless American soldiers and sailors are among the stead-iest readers.

"Many service people come here," said Miss Ferguson. "They work voluntarily on the library staff so we can stay open even-ings."

The young librarian is very serious herself and plays no fa-vorites among her books. She even has a kind word for the con-gressional record, which is ar-riving regularly. She forecasts many readers for it.

"Government people here," she said firmly, "are interested in new bills and congressional ac-tion."

On Vacation At Nice, France

NICE, France, Nov. 20 (Delay-ed) — Staff Sgt. Roy A. Sherna-man of Knob Noster, Mo., with Company F, 18th Infantry, First Division, has returned to duty with the Army of Occupation af-ter a ten-day furlough in this internationally famed Mediter-ranean resort, now a vacation spot for American soldiers in Europe.

As guests of the army, GIs live in fashionable hotels and receive the same careful, courteous at-tention formerly lavished upon the Riviera's pre-war clientele.

During 17 months in the army, 11 of which he has spent overseas, Sgt. Sherman had served in Belgium, Germany and Czechoslo-vakia. He is now stationed at Wurzburg, Germany.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sherman of LaMonte. His wife, Mrs. Roy Sherman, resides in Kansas City, Mo.

Out of Army, Going To Locate In Memphis

Howard Kindred, son of J. Ross Kindred, 302 South Grand av-enue, has received his honorable discharge from the navy and has accepted a position as district manager in the DeSoto motor division of the Chrysler corpo-ration at Memphis, Tenn.

Pvt. Gatewood Discharged

Pfc. Joseph C. Gatewood, 518 West Pettis street, has received his honorable discharge from mili-tary service at the separation unit of the First Air Force base at Mitchell Field, N. Y.

Brotherhood Of Baptist Church Meets

In the first meeting of the year 75 members of the Men's Brotherhood of the First Baptist church attended a banquet in the church dining room Thursday night and listened to a varied program that followed.

A committee of church women with Mrs. E. C. Martin, chairman and including Mesdames R.
B. Rupard, Irvin Robertson, Robt.
Whitley, Thos. W. Croxton, Ver-nard Cole, Grace Arbragast, Chas.
Merriott and A. B. Hall prepared and served the banquet which was voted the best for many years by those partaking.

Frank W. Bryant presided and Robert Wild was in charge of a musical program. He introduced Rev. F. Y. Jackson and choir of the Freewill Baptist church, Sedalia and they presented a number of spirituals. Solos by Rev. Jackson, Mrs. F. Y. Jackson and Mrs. B. F. Richard were thoroughly enjoyed.

President Bryant then introduced E. E. Amick, Baptist layman of Kansas City, Mo., and for four years president of the noted Men's Bible class meeting in Ivanhoe Temple in Kansas City as speaker of the evening.

His subject "Opportunities and Responsibilities in the Year Ahead" was directed to Baptist laymen in particular, urging racial and religious tolerance and a collective effort toward the peace of the world.

Need Understanding

He said in part: "I believe that if Wendell Willkie had lived until after the appearance of the first atomic bomb he would have called his book 'One World—Or No World.' The necessity for understanding and goodwill among all peoples was never so acute as now. The very existence of the future of the world depends upon that understanding. Let us add our voice to the great chorus demanding a permanent cessation of all wars so our leaders may be guided in their efforts. For if vision is absent today, the people perish."

His talk was timely and well received.
The pastor of the church, Rev.
Thos. W. Croxton, in a brief talk, welcomed the veterans present who had returned from various branches of the armed forces, inviting all to renewed effort in church activities in the year ahead.

At a short business session the following officers were elected for the new year: Frank W.
Bryant, president; Clyde Williams, vice president and O. H. DeWolf, secretary.

The Spirit of Sacrifice

A spirit of sacrifice is as necessary for national well-being as it is for contentment and peace in the home. This does not involve extraordinary self-denial. It simply calls for kindness, sympathy, cooperation and cheerfulness in dealing with others. People who show these qualities invariably find that any self-sacrifice involved brings rich dividends in the goodwill and friendship of those with whom they come into contact.

There is much stress today on the need for a greater social consciousness among both old and young. It is being said that we are on the threshold of a new social age. This means that we need more inter-group understanding to overcome racial and religious intolerance; more kindness to solve the problems of wayward adolescence; a greater readiness to support movements for social and economic reform. It means shedding attitudes of negligence or indifference—which really denote a callous selfishness—to become vital and interested sharers in community and national life rather than home-isolated units in a society that needs everybody's helping hand.

Religion—and common sense—teach that no society can hope to survive unless there is a feeling of mutual responsibility among all its members. We may seek to exclude a lack of wider social interest by pleading our own family or vocational obligations, but it would be hard indeed to find any life so filled with demands on time or energy as to preclude some little degree of active concern for the community at large.

There may be little we can do personally to serve the interests or needs of others, but little or great, our consciences will surely condemn us if selfishness alone prevents us from adding our mite to the treasury of goodwill and generosity from which so many burdened and suffering, today especially, must draw heavily.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"SACRAMENT" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 13, 1946.

Golden Text: Psalms 116:12, 13.
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength, and my redeemer." (Ps. 119:14).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "One's aim, a point beyond faith, should be to find the footsteps of Truth, the way to health and holiness. We should strive to reach the Horeb height where God is revealed; and the cornerstone of all spiritual building is purity. The baptism of Spirit, washing the body of all the impurities of flesh, signifies that the pure in heart see God and are approaching spiritual life and its demonstration." (p-241).

the children. Refreshments were served.
Names were drawn for 1946
"Sunshine Pals."

ory and Mrs. W. H. Weller led

Bus Strike Has Been Settled

After a strike which lasted thirty days, called by AFL Local number 541, on the Sedalia Bus company an agreement described as being "satisfactory" was reached and the strike officially ended at 6:00 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Terms of the agreement grant the drivers "closed shop" operation, seniority rights, pay boost and all former drivers were put back to work, it was reported.
Better working conditions were

Mayors Convention Finishes Tomorrow

Thursday Night Session

Ways of assisting World War II veterans were discussed by Dr. Thomas A. Brady, Columbia, vice-president of the University of Missouri and director of the university's veteran program, in a talk Thursday night at the banquet of the league, which climaxed the opening day of its eleventh annual convention.

Dr. Brady answered the question-title of his address, "How Can We Help the Returned Veteran With His Problems?" from the municipal standpoint, speaking of the work of Veterans Centers.

Help To Service Men

He explained that the University of Missouri now has one field representative and plans to engage six or seven more in a university-sponsored service to assist communities in helping the service man with reference to matters pertaining to the G. I. Bill of Rights.

The convention delegates and guests were welcomed by Mayor A. H. Wilks, of Sedalia, a director of the Missouri Municipal League, and the response was made by J. C. Griggs, mayor of Carthage, the league's vice-president.

Arthur F. Bangert, mayor of Florissant, president, presided at the banquet meeting, and also over the sessions held during the day.

Tells of Forming League

Roger Serman, mayor of Independence, called the "grand-daddy" of the league by virtue of his efforts as the founder, was called on at the banquet and told of its organization, pointing out that "the way the Municipal League is growing it will have much to do with what's happening in Missouri."

Also introduced were E. H. Chapin, mayor of Kirkwood, a former president, and Julian H. Bagby, former mayor of Sedalia, and at one time head of the league.

Mayor H. C. Rethwisch of Fayette made an after-dinner talk, including several appropriate stories.

Singing was led by James Denny, assisted by Mrs. B. B. Bettis, with Mrs. W. L. Monegan accompanying at the piano.

1945—YEAR OF RETRIBUTION

By NEA Service

THE story of the year of retribution ends with four portraits. First, is that of Vidkun Quisling—the man whose shameful betrayal of Norway has sent his name echoing into history as the synonym for "traitor." Retribution for Quisling: Death before the firing squad.

Next comes Pierre Laval, the little Frenchman with the white tie and the black soul. He is shown baiting his prosecutors at his trial in Paris. Behind him sits the bewildered Petain, ex-chief of the Vichy state. Their retribution: For Laval, death before the firing squad, for Petain, ignominy.

The grotesque object in the third panel is the mortal remnant of the self-appointed 20th Century Caesar. His dream of a new Roman Empire, swindled and stolen, now lies with his broken body in the box into which a Milanese mob has thrown him. His retribution: Death in a gutter.

The last picture shows Tojo, wartime premier of Japan. After losing the war he tried to shoot himself through the heart with a pistol. He missed and now lives in disgrace awaiting trial.

The End.

Five Divorce Actions Filed

Howard F. Robertson, Windsor, who alleged that the whereabouts of his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Marie Robertson, are unknown to him, filed suit for divorce Thursday in the Pettis county circuit court.

They were married on May 3, 1945, and he states in the petition that on May 24 she left "presumably to go to Kansas City to pay some bills" and that she has not returned to his home on rural route 1, Windsor.

Efforts on Robertson's part and by state and police authorities have failed to locate her, he claims.

The petition asks for the appointment of a guardian to act in lieu of the defendant, who is under the age of 21, in the proceedings.

The suit was filed through the law firm of Montgomery, Martin and Salveter.

The legal firm also filed suits for three other plaintiffs in divorce cases Thursday afternoon.

Mary Marie Fulton versus Harry R. Fulton. This couple was married on May 5, 1945. The plaintiff requests restoration of her maiden name, Marie Jones.

James R. Taylor, Jr., versus Joyce Anne Taylor. Married September 10, 1945.

Hattie A. Stephens versus Edgar L. Stephens. The couple was married on June 21, 1941. The plaintiff asks for custody of their three-year-old daughter and for an order for continuance of a military allotment for the child.

Through her attorney, W. W. Blain, Mrs. Asalee Perkins filed suit for divorce from Clarence L. Perkins in another petition entered in the circuit court Thursday.

Married in September of 1927, the couple was separated from 1934 until 1940 when they were reunited according to the petition.

In her divorce petition Mrs. Perkins asks to have their five children with her during the school year and that they may visit the defendant on proper occasions and stay with him part of the school vacation months.

The plaintiff also asks for a reasonable sum for permanent alimony, attorney fees and suit money.

Give Caution On 'Disrespect'

"Stars And Stripes" To Use Soldier-Written Letters

HONOLULU, Jan. 11.—(P)—Lt. Gen. Robert C. Richardson, Jr., cautioned the mid-Pacific Stars and Stripes Thursday not to speak disrespectfully of those in authority, but explained later he had no intention of muzzling the outspoken, soldier-edited newspaper in connection with the current demobilization controversy.

Stars and Stripes used as a headline in its Jan. 7 issue for a story on a Manila demobilization demonstration "Patterson branded number one enemy by jeering mob."

The story referred to Secretary of War Patterson.

"Although men of my (mid-Pacific) command may disagree with policies of government and express themselves freely thereon, it is improper while we are in uniform to attack our leaders as individuals," Richardson said. He explained that such attacks "violate the articles of war which I am under oath to enforce."

"Free To Disagree"

Today's edition, published after Richardson's directive, did not carry a single word written by G. I.'s but after the directive was clarified Stars and Stripes said it would resume with soldier-written news, letters and soldier cartoons and editorials tomorrow.

At a later press conference, Richardson explained his directive meant that there must be no derogatory remarks made against individuals in authority but that the paper was free to disagree with the policies of the government and express itself freely.

"He has given us back freedom of the press, for which we are thankful," commented M. Sgt. Charles Avedon of Los Angeles, editor-in-chief.

Avedon explained that he and his staff had interpreted the directive to mean that there could be no criticism of the army or its policies because such criticism would be derogatory to officers.

"That wouldn't be derogatory," the general said "that would be controversial."

The Thursday Stars and Stripes carried only stories from news services, which were exempt from Richardson's cautionary directive.

Richardson said: "You are in military service and Stars and Stripes is a paper published under auspices of the United States army with authority of the secretary of war.

The "crisis" brought out thousands of G. I.'s to mass meetings in Honolulu and Seoul, Korea, demanding speedier reduction of America's overseas army.

Soldiers in Manila cheered General Eisenhower's order for return of non-essential men as the answer. General MacArthur implemented that order with one of his own that no ship sail from the United States from his command area with an empty berth.

Plan Forming New VFW Post

Thirty veterans of World War II, eligible for membership in the Veterans of Foreign Wars, met at the State Guard Armory Wednesday night at which time they formulated plans for a new V. F. W. Post in Sedalia. Temporary officers elected were Captain William Miller as chairman and Sgt. Arthur H. Jens, quartermaster and adjutant.

Twenty-three of the veterans signed as charter members and any veteran eligible who joins on or before Wednesday night January 23 will also be charter members. At the next meeting, which is to be held at the armory, election of officers will be conducted and the naming of the new Post voted upon, after which the formal request to be accepted by the Veterans of Foreign Wars will be made.

Harry O'Neill, commander of the Walter Elkins Post V. F. W., was a guest and spoke on the Veterans of Foreign Wars and answered questions regarding the organization.

It was announced that in Pettis county there are 2,700 veterans of World War II who are eligible for membership. All of these veterans are invited to attend the next meeting whether they become members or not.

The organization of the new V. F. W. Post has no connection whatsoever with the recently organized 128th Field Artillery Club, although many of the Club are assisting in the organization of the new Post.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—(P)—Publicity is the only weapon the all America football conference has to carry on a "war" with the National football league until it actually starts playing games, according to Prexy Elmer Layden of the NFL. . . . You have plenty of proof for that statement in the fact the grid Yankees signed Frankie Sinkwich Dec. 9 and did not announce it until the day the older league opened its annual meeting. . . . Next announcement you can expect is that the Yankees have signed John Kimbrough the former Texas Aggie line buster. The Chicago Cardinals offered him a $1,000 a game contract and he turned it down because he had agreed to go with the New York club.

Local Pride

"Guess Marty Marion, Bill Vosselle and Doc Blanchard have done more to put their native state (S. C.) on the map than Rand-McNally and Secretary of State Jimmy Byrnes," writes Scoop Latimer, the sage of Greenville, S. C., and Scooperoo Ranch.

Hitting to all Fields

Warren Giles, the Cincinnati Reds' boss, figures he has heard at least five or six times from each of his ball players in service. In addition he has kept tabs on their play by communicating with major leaguers on the same teams. . . . It took 60 days to cut down the American league World Series film from 22,000 feet to 2,500. . . . Another week and Lew Fonseca might have eliminated all National leaguers. . . . Lee MacMitchell averages 40 miles a week on the NYU board track while getting in shape for the winter foot racing season. That's some different from jogging a scant mile in 100 degree heat as Les did on the Admiralty islands not so long ago.

Sportspourri

Harrison Colson of Wichita Falls, Texas, says the finals of the Texas high school football championship at the Cotton bowl drew 46,000 spectators, a southern record, and wants to know the northern record for school-boy games. . . . Biggest crowd we recall was approximately 62,000 at Cleveland last fall. . . . Tom Greenwade, who left the Brooklyn Dodgers to join the Yankees scouting staff, is a close friend of another prominent Missourian, President Truman. . . . Joe Dimaggio is a director of a West Coast sardine company, but he probably can't teach Larry MacPhail anything about packing 'em in.

During 1944 the Air Transport Command of the Army Air Force flew 600 million miles—24,000 times around the world.

Amber's Pal

Glenn Langan, above, has won the coveted role of Capt. Rex Morgan in the forthcoming movie of "Forever Amber." Unknown to screen audiences, Langan has been featured in such Broadway stage hits as "Johnny Belinda" and "A Kiss for Cinderella."

Sinkwich Jumps To The Yankees

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(P)—Fireball Frankie Sinkwich, most valuable player in the National football league while with Detroit in 1944, jumped to the New York Yankees of the All-America conference today in a surprise move that threatened to send the players fight between the rival professional circuits into court.

At a news conference attended by Sinkwich, the Yankees announced they had signed the two-time all-American halfback from the University of Georgia to a three-year contract. President Dan Topping disclosed only that Sinkwich' salary ran into "five figures" but reliable estimates placed it at around $12,000 a year.

As soon as the news reached officials of the Detroit Lions, they declared the National League team was "prepared to go to court" to enforce its contract with Sinkwich, which they contended had one more year to run.

The lions are interested in holding him only if he has recovered from a knee injury that curtailed his career in service football.

IMPROVED FLAVOR

You can do it Better with DARICRAFT

DARICRAFT cooking makes good cooks better and beginners "professionals." Try using it in soups, gravies and creamed sauces for a richer flavor. The special process of homogenizing DARICRAFT makes foods prepared with DARICRAFT smoother and more velvety. Cakes and breads are lighter and more certain, and stay fresh longer. Use either sweet or soured for baking.

To sour Daricraft dilute DARICRAFT with equal parts of water, and for each cupful, add 1 tablespoon vinegar or lemon juice. Always the perfect degree of acidity for baking. Always the same fine results.

Daricraft whips so deliciously and easily because of the special process used in homogenization. Of course you must chill it thoroughly. Also chill bowl and beater. Will not turn to butter . . . can be added to . . . can be re-whipped. DARICRAFT multiplies itself four times in volume when whipped, so you need only half as much. Think of the economy of DARICRAFT too. A whole bowl full of whipped DARICRAFT costs only a few cents. Use it in your own favorite recipe; or try one of the 14 different frozen dessert recipes you will find in my Cook Book. Be sure to get your copy at once, as the supply is limited.
